A handsome Georgian town, Alresford (pronounced ‘Alsford’) is the perfect place to spend a weekend. Ideal for gentle strolling, there is plenty to see in the town and by its picturesque riverside. Voted Country Life’s ‘Favourite Market Town’ in the South East, Alresford is known for its specialist shops, old-fashioned inns, smart bistros and traditional tea rooms. It is also known as the UK’s capital of watercress farming and as the home of the Mid-Hants Steam Railway – the Watercress Line. Why not spend a weekend in Alresford and enjoy our beautiful town?

Alresford’s clear chalk streams have attracted people for many centuries with evidence of Neolithic, Bronze Age, Iron Age and Roman occupation on numerous sites in the area.

Henri de Blois, brother of King Stephen and Bishop of Winchester, is credited with the idea of building the Great Weir or dam and designing the town of Novum Forum, which soon became New Alresford. He died before the completion of the project and Godfrey de Lucy, his successor as bishop (1189-1204), finished Alresford’s T-shaped town centre as we see it today.

During the reign of Henry VIII, clothiers, dyers and tanners were recorded as living here and fulling and corn mills operated. A fine example of a 13th century fulling mill straddles the River Alre (sometimes spelt Arle). Follow the riverside walk to discover this pretty thatched and timber-framed building, now a private residence.

The town’s history is punctuated with fires despite the abundance of water in the area. The buildings you see today rose from the ashes of a series of great fires in the 17th century.

Watercress has always grown wild in the chalk streams and ditches in and around the town, and was probably picked and eaten by local people for centuries. It was far too perishable to be transported by horse and cart and so only became a commercial proposition when the railway arrived in the 1860s. You can still ride the Watercress Line today – hop on board one of the powerful steam locomotives for the 10-mile trip to Alton, or simply take in the sights, sounds and smells of the superbly restored station.

Alresford’s beautiful riverside setting amidst rolling chalk downland makes it perfect walking territory for everyone from the casual post-pub-lunch stroller to the seasoned long-distance walker. Most leaflets mentioned are available from outlets around the town, the Goods Shed information point at the Mid-Hants Railway, or from Winchester Tourist Information Centre. You can also check out the walking pages at www.alresford.org and also www.hants.gov.uk/walking.

Millennium Trail and Alre Valley Trail

If you want to find out more about Alresford’s history, inhabitants and wildlife, pick up a free copy of the Millennium Trail and Alre Valley Trail, two self-guided walks that link together footpaths with illustrated boards around the town. The Alre Valley Trail branches off the Millennium Trail, rejoining it about one and a half miles later. It lets you appreciate Alresford’s idyllic countryside setting. The route also takes you past the Eel House, one of the last remaining buildings of its kind, and once used to trap young eels as they set out to breed. The Eel House is currently in need of major restoration work to save it from collapse. To find out how you can help, visit www.alresford.org.

The Winchester Watercress Tour

Pick and choose your stops from this free self-guided trail through the Itchen and Meon Valleys, the home of the watercress industry for many years. Take in scenic views of rivers, watercress beds and villages, with the opportunity to sample tasty local food along the way.

Itchen Valley Churches Trail

This leaflet explores the landscape, history and local culture of the Itchen Valley and outlines self-guided trails for walkers and cyclists. It focuses on the architectural and historical identities of the unusual and varied styles of church along this pretty river valley.

Wayfarers’ Walk

More beautiful countryside is on offer along the 72-mile Wayfarers’ Walk, which follows some of the old tracks used by shepherds driving their animals to sheep fairs in Farnham and Alresford. For something more manageable, try any one of the five circular walks (between four and six miles long) signposted from the main route.

The Itchen Way

Following the River Itchen from its source near Hinton Ampner all the way to the busy port of Southampton, the 27-mile Itchen Way takes you through Hampshire’s countryside at its very best. If you fancy a shorter stroll, try one of the individual circular walks that allow you to explore the river at a more leisurely pace. For more detailed information and maps go to www.eastleighramblers.hampshire.org.uk.

St Swithun’s Way

The 34-mile St Swithun’s Way runs between Winchester and Farnham, weaving its way east through the picturesque Itchen Valley. From Farnham, the route continues to Canterbury as the North Downs Way National Trail. St Swithun’s Way waymarks are based on the shell, a common symbol of pilgrimage, and two croziers, representing St Swithun and St Thomas à Becket. A walker’s pack is available at www.hants.gov.uk/longdistance/st-swithuns-way.

Other long-distance walking paths which pass close by to Alresford include the Clarendon Way, the South Downs Way and the Pilgrims’ Trail. More information on these can be found at www.hants.gov.uk/walking.
Alresford’s attractions are evident from the moment you arrive in the town. Colour-washed houses nestle alongside eye-catching specialist shops, whilst the clear chalk streams provide the perfect setting for scenic riverside walks. Delve a little deeper and you will find houses, churches and gardens to visit, as well as one of the country’s best-preserved steam railways.

Watercress has made its mark on Alresford with acres of beds spanning the clear chalk stream river valleys surrounding the town. Don’t miss the annual Watercress Festival, held in the town each May at the start of the watercress season. You can even ride the Mid-Hants Steam Railway – popularly known as the Watercress Line – in honour of its former role in transporting fresh watercress to London in days gone by. These days, it operates real ale and dining trains on special occasions during the year. Salad leaves aside, Alresford offers lovers of other fine foods a surprising number of excellent eateries, many of which showcase the best of the region’s produce. Follow your tastebuds to the town for a complete gourmet experience.
